With over 40 years of experience, David Weisman is one of a select group of attorneys recognized by The Florida Bar as being a Board Certified Real Estate Lawyer. It is the highest such rating of an attorney's special knowledge, skills, and proficiency in a specific area of law and for professionalism and ethics in practice.

Mr. Weisman's practice encompasses a wide range of commercial and residential real estate transactions and commercial leasing matters, no matter how complex. He represents individual buyers and sellers, investors, developers, and lenders. Transactions include the real estate component of automobile and truck dealerships and related facilities, including acquisition and construction financing, leasing, and property sales. In addition, he offers his clients representation in various corporate and business matters, purchases and sales of businesses, shareholder and partnership agreements, joint venture and participation agreements, as well as various contract matters.

Mr. Weisman is a published author and frequent lecturer for The Florida Bar and American Bar Association on issues relating to real estate transactions, leasing agreements, and contract matters. Through his work with The Florida Bar, he has helped to author statutory revisions and worked to test and certify real estate specialists. In 2019, Mr. Weisman was named an Adjunct Professor of the Huizenga College of Business at Nova Southeastern University teaching Real Estate Law and Ethics in the Masters of Science in Real Estate Development Program.
