

Fashion, Luxury, and Beauty

Greenspoon Marder's Fashion, Luxury, and Beauty practice group provides premium legal services with robust experience in representing some of the most iconic brands across the globe. We have a unique perspective and industry-leading experience to navigate a landscape facing growing legal challenges in an ever-evolving and highly competitive market.

Our clients in the fashion, luxury, and beauty industry innovate market spaces and exude style and creativity in every facet of their businesses. We advise worldwide brands, including luxury designers, apparel manufacturers and retailers, celebrities, beauty and lifestyle influencers, footwear companies, fragrance, and cosmetic and skincare lines, and take a special interest in supporting startups seeking to develop their brand platforms. By fostering long-lasting relations with affluent and successful industry leaders and maintaining deep connections with financial institutions, private equity investors, and international investment firms, we have key insight on global market conditions and emerging trends.

As a full-service national Am Law 200 firm, Greenspoon Marder is equipped to handle all aspects of your brand's needs and is dedicated to building, growing, and protecting the brand's legacy throughout every stage of its lifecycle.
