

International Trade

The International Trade practice at Greenspoon Marder is built on our experience helping clients with their most challenging international business issues. Our attorneys have deep roots in politics, government and law, and bring a sophisticated understanding of Washington and major capitals policy making ecosystems. Our relationships with and knowledge of the key players at relevant government and international organizations allow our clients to act efficiently and decisively.

At Greenspoon Marder, our goal is to optimize our client's ability to exchange goods and services and invest across borders, and we provide the regulatory and compliance advice necessary to execute international business in an efficient and cost-effective manner. We work with companies on:

- Cross Border Supply Chain and Transactional Support
- Trade Agreements: NAFTA/USMCA; WTO; Brexit; U.S.-China; ASEAN; APEC; U.S.-Japan; U.S.-Korea
- International Taxation
- Digital Trade
- Compliance Strategies, Policies, Procedures and Training
- Due Diligence On International Transactions
- Foreign Investment/CFIUS
- Economic Sanctions/OFAC
- Customs Law
- Export Controls
- Intellectual Property

We work closely with Government Agencies and Congressional Committees including:
