Representative Experience

- Past experience as an-house litigator included involvement in complex litigation regarding a $400 million hotel construction project located in Houston, a $20 million cyberbreach lawsuit, including a related insurance coverage action, and multi-million dollar landlord-tenant disputes.
- Defended a general contractor in large scale, multi-million dollar construction defect claim brought by developer of a $40 million commercial building project. The client paid nothing out-of-pocket and recouped most of its attorneys' fees and expenses from its subcontractors and their insurers.
- Defended luxury window manufacturer in New York state court who provided windows for a multi-million residential project. The window manufacturer was dismissed and paid nothing out-of-pocket.
- Co-counsel in trial court and appellate win: Represented an Italian product manufacturer in a matter with seven figure exposure; obtained dismissal for lack of personal jurisdiction, which New York's Appellate Division, First Department, unanimously affirmed.
