Todd Langford is Senior Counsel in Greenspoon Marder's Intellectual Property practice group. As a patent attorney, Mr. Langford prepares and prosecutes patent applications before the United States Patent and Trademark Office in a wide range of fields, including optical lenses, holograms, network connected devices, user interfaces, medical devices, outdoor products, and other consumer goods. Having successfully prosecuted over 200 patents and trademarks, Mr. Langford has a proven track record of obtaining intellectual property protection for his clients. In addition to his extensive patent and trademark prosecution experience, Mr. Langford represents litigants in Federal and State court with respect to intellectual property matters as well as represents clients before the USPTO for trademark oppositions and petitions to cancel as well as patent inter partes reviews (IPRs), covered business method reviews (CBMs), and post grant reviews (PGRs). On the transactional side, he represents clients in various matters, including counseling on brand protection, licensing, purchases and sales, business agreements, and international intellectual property portfolio management.
